

Exercise 1

We must model a sale company. The company has salesmen, products and clients that buy the products. The minimum information we must know for the salesmen are name, last name, his/she's commission of the sales and the city he/she is responsible for.

We also need to know the members of each salesman family. We need the degree of relationship, name, and date of birth

The products have description and prize. For the clients we need, name, last name, and the salesman who is responsible for him

We also must monitor all the sales that the company is making
